

Newberry Academy is a member and is accredited by the South Carolina Independent School Association (SCISA). SCISA offers numerous benefits to our students, parents, staff members and board members in a variety of capacities including academic and athletic competitions.

Founded originally on August 10, 1965, the State of South Carolina incorporated SCISA as an exclusively educational organization with responsibilities to establish accreditation standards, coordinate athletic and academic competition, and raise funds for member organizations.